SUCCESS-POWER

"I Will" and "I Can't"

These are the sure fore-runners of "I Won" and "I Lost." They tell the story of a man's character, of his attitude of mind, of his chances in the world.

When you say you will, knowing full well that you will, you are equipped with all the power of positive decision and purpose.

When you say you can't, thinking you can't, you are headed straight for failure.

"I Will" is purpose, fully backed up by your will. It is a dynamo of power ready for use. It can overcome difficulties and insure success.

"I Can't" is the cry of the hosts of failure, the slogan of everyone in the world who is afraid to fight for the rewards of success.
